

Welcome to PR101 SCEIS Foundations of Procurement.

This online course is organized in modules to help you select and sequence training materials for use as part of PR101 SCEIS Foundations of Procurement. Each module presents the key terms and concepts, insights, technology, relationships, and tools of subject-matter experts to help facilitate learning. All Course Modules must be completed.

Each course module contains an introduction, learning objectives, discussion, and a summary. Instructions use illustrations, animations, voice, text, snapshots of computer screens, and scenarios in the South Carolina Enterprise Information System (SCEIS).

Links to websites typically require Adobe Acrobat PDF Reader or Microsoft Office to access documents.

The Related Resources lists all websites referenced in the course and taking the Course Assessment completes the training.
